

ALLIANCE RUBBER SHELLFISH BANDS

MEETING YOUR NEEDS FOR MORE THAN 50 YEARS.

Our shellfish rubber bands are made from natural latex and have been used for over 50 years throughout the process of catching, packaging and promoting a variety of seafood. These bands can withstand cold temperatures and are FDA compliant for direct food contact.

Traceability, or location of origin, is becoming increasingly important. We have the ability to print that information directly on your band and can include your company name, logo or boat number. Continue to market your company and product even after the catch while meeting traceability requirements.
